

SYMH Primary Update

November 2018

A number of work groups may now have begun, but it's not too late to engage with FREE professional development opportunities in your area. Some, such as the SEND network meetings are still available to all even though you may have missed session 1.

Another opportunity has just arisen for any colleague with SLE status.

National recruitment for the Maths SLE School Improvement Support Programme opens on Thursday 1 November and closes on Friday 23 November. The three-day programme is being held in three locations across the country, information and application form can be found here

Best wishes.

Diagnostic assessment

This new innovative work group will begin in the New Year and will look to develop teacher's expertise in carrying out diagnostic assessment as a tool to identify areas of strength and challenge in children's learning. If you are interested in finding out more and details of when and where this work group will take place please feel free to contact Judith Copley at judithcopley@clifton-partnership.org.uk
